Illegal dumping charges denied

BY ED LEPOMA

The plant manager for a garbage hauler in Abita Springs, La., has denied charges that asbestos shingles and medical waste were dumped at Hancock County's rubbish site in rural Standard.

The accusations were made before the Board of Supervisors in a workshop session Tuesday by Jerry Ladner and Tom Williams, who said they have organized a group called Hancock County Citizens for Good Government.

Solid Waste District officials confirmed at a meeting Wednesday that the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality was informed of the allegations, and an inspector would come to town today to meet with those who leveled the charges. Based on their testimony, the DEQ would decide if any excavation needs to be made at the rubbish site, they said.

Ladner, a former supervisor, wanted the board "to go get a court order" and begin digging at Standard immediately. Ladner claimed the man who saw the alleged illegal dumping "could pinpoint the site."

The firm identified during the workshop session was Recovery Tech, Inc., of Abita Springs, and when contacted by the Echo, the plant manager seemed appalled by the accusations.

"That's impossible," said Randy Walpole, who manages the garbage hauling operations located in St. Tammany Parish.

"We don't dump medical waste. We don't have a permit to handle medical waste," said Walpole.

Walpole said RTI hauls household garbage and construction debris collected "from all over St. Tammany Parish." He estimated his trucks haul about 500 to 600 tons of garbage each week, but said it is all being taken to a landfill in McNeil, Miss.

He said RTI might have used Standard "sometime in September" to dump construction debris (which is allowed), but no longer dumps anything at Standard. Walpole offered to check his records to see when RTI last dumped anything at Standard and what it dumped.

Ladner played supervisors a tape recording in which a former employee at the Standard

Changes planned for Ladner Pier

BY RICHARD MEEK

Waveland city officials have long agreed that the Garfield Ladner Pier could be a significant source of income.

The city is now taking steps to help that become a reality.

Waveland is currently in the process of applying for Tidelands Funds money, which, if approved, could mean as much as $50,000 a year to the city. The money would be spent for a facelift, and the addition of amenities to the pier.

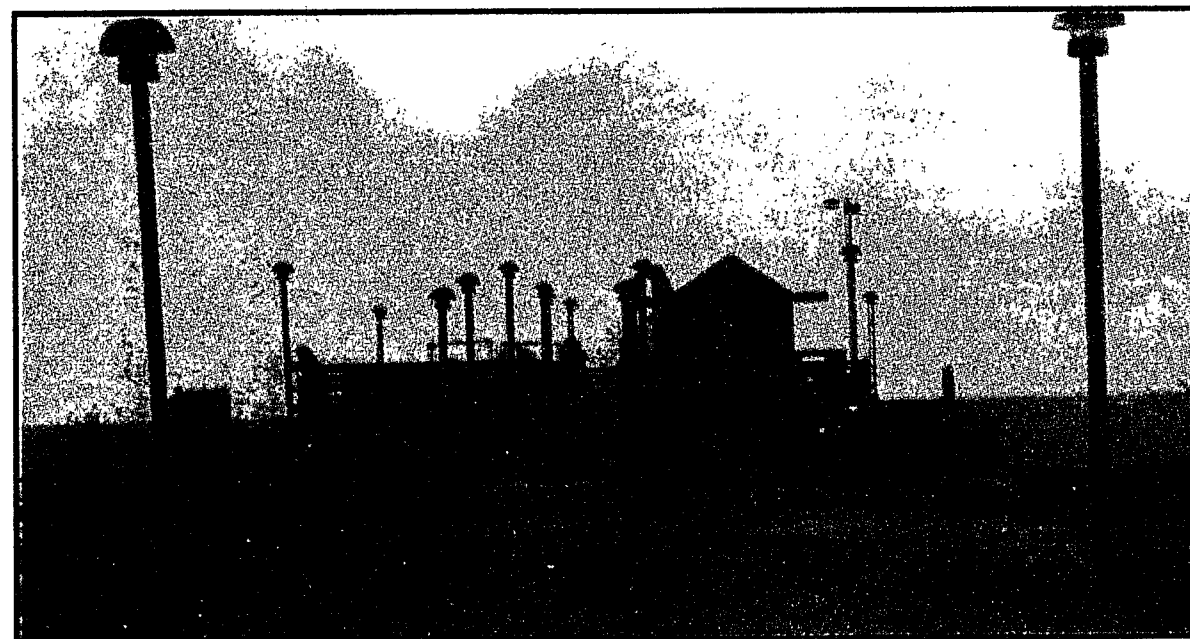

The first step is to have the coastal waters around the pier rezoned by the Department of Marine Resources from general to commercial. The city is working with Eaton and Associates out of Jackson to help with the process, to the opposition of Alderman Jay Fleuriot.

Fleuriot objected Tuesday night in a Board of Aldermen meeting that the city is paying Ray Eaton $4,500 for Eaton's professional services. He said he had originally assumed Eaton's fee would come from the Tidelands Funds, but the other aldermen and mayor agreed that they understood the money was coming from the city's general fund.

"We're spending ($4,500) to get $50,000 forever," Alderman Tommy Longo said. "What is the problem?"

The Garfield Ladner Pier in Waveland may undergo major changes if the city's application for Tidelands Funds money is approved by the state. The money would be spent for a facelift and the addition of amenities, including a live bait shop and concession stand. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

Citizens endorse zoning proposal

BY ED LEPOMA

Supervisors looking to gauge citizens' reactions to a comprehensive zoning ordinance in Hancock County were given a pep talk Monday night from a major land owner in the Kiln area.

A crowd of about 50 residents turned out at Hancock North Central Elementary School for the third in a series of meetings on proposed zoning being conducted by the Hancock County Planning Commission. The fourth and final meeting to get public input was scheduled Wednesday night at Hancock High School on Airport/Stennis Road, off Hwy. 603.

Besides the planning commission, all five members of the Board of Supervisors were in attendance, but none spoke. The meeting lasted a little over an hour.

Supervisors seemed encouraged, however, when Leila Thissell applauded them for beginning steps to adopt a zoning plan for the entire county.

Thissell, who lives in Diamondhead, said she owns about 200 acres on the Jourdan

River around the buffer zone, "so I have a vested interest in what happens in the area."

She told supervisors the plan being considered is "more comprehensive than I expected."

Favre to Mexico - again

BY MARY G. SEILEY

It's off to Mexico for Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre again -- but this time the city is picking up the tab.

City Council voted 4-0 Tuesday night to pay up to $2,000 for the trip, including expenses of compiling a tourism film to air at a meeting of the Tourism Sector of the Gulf States Accord in Cancun, Quintana Roo, Mexico.

Regional evangelical meet

The University of Mobile will host the 1996 spring meeting for the Southeastern Region of the Evangelical Theological Society. The meeting is to be held March 15-16 in Weaver Hall.

The ETS meeting is open to the public at a cost of $20. There is also an additional $10 fee for those wishing to attend the ETS banquet March 15 in the Harri-gan Forest Learning Center at 6 p.m.

Dr. James Sire, popularly recognized writer and author on Christian worldview issues, will be the guest speaker. Sire will address the topics "The Nature and Challenge of Post-modernism" and "Christian Apologetics in Response to Postmodernism."

Sire is senior editor for Inter-Varsity Press and campus lecturer for Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. He has lectured at over 200 universities in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Sire has also authored several books, including "Chris- tianism Goes to College," "Why Should Anyone Believe Anything at All?" and "Disciple- ship of the Mind."

Additional sessions will be led by ETS members from universities and seminaries in the Southeastern region. Those members will present research papers on the theme of "Christian Apologetics in a Postmodern World." Among members making presentation is the University of Mobile's Dr. James W. Bryant, assistant professor of religion.

Bryant will discuss "Implications of William Foxwell Albright's Assertion of the Empirico-logical Mentality of Hebraic Thinking for Christian Apologetics."

More than 100 ETS members are expected to attend. Dr. Cecil Taylor, UM associate dean of the School of Religion, said the meeting is to "share the results of recent research and stimulate the minds of those who attend."

According to Taylor the ETS is an interdenominational fellowship of scholars committed to the inerrancy of scripture. Members are required to annually sign a statement committing themselves to the beliefs of the inerrant scripture and the trinity of God. Members must also have earned a master of theology or an equivalent degree.

Altrusa Club to hold annual benefit dinner

The annual Spring Benefit Dinner, sponsored by Altrusa International of Bay St. Louis-Waveland, will be Sunday, March 10, 11 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Eastern Star building on Bouslog Street in Bay St. Louis. Tickets are $7 per dinner for sit-down or take-out.

The menu, under the direction of Mary Alice Ladner (formerly owner of Ladner's Catering) and Jeanie Moran from Hancock Medical Center, will be a choice of chicken divan with rice pilaf or beef Stroganoff with fancy green beans. Green salad, a variety of breads, choice of homemade desserts and a beverage will be served.

Tickets are available from any Altrusa member, including Betsy Ashman at Hancock Insurance (Main Street), Yvonne Salinger at the Bridalair (Longfellow Drive), and Pat Kingston of Patiff's Boutique & Thrift Shop (Sycamore Street).

Reservations for either sit-down or take-out are also accepted by phoning MaryLee Lagarde at 467-6686 or Ruth Johns at 467-6167.

Melissa Lagarde, winner of the Holiday Mailbox Decorations, sponsored by the Downtown Development Foundation and the City of Bay St. Louis, has created a decorative spring gardening bonnet and an Ester wreath for which raffle tickets will be sold at this event. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

Winning names will be drawn at the Altrusa business meeting Tuesday, March 12, and winners will be notified by phone.

Altrusa International, the oldest women's organization in the United States, is a service organization of professional and business women.

Crime prevention program

On Friday, March 22 at 7 p.m. at the Mississippi Power Company auditorium in the Mississippi Power Company corporate office building on 30th Avenue and Hwy. 90 in Gulfport, both Coast Prison Ministries Inc. and The Serving Hand's Ministry will host the first annual Crime Prevention Recognition Night.

Both ministries are involved in life-changing programs for inmates, ex-offenders and their families.

Local law enforcement, civic and religious organizations will share their plans and programs to make the Coast a better place to live besides presentations from the various organizations. There will be special entertainment, and speaker Peter Spackman, who will share his proven plan for crime prevention.

The public is invited and welcome to attend.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Hancock County Board of Supervisors is considering applying to the Department of Economic and Community Development for a Community Development Block Grant of up to $500,000. The State of Mississippi has been allocated approximately $39,000,000 that will be made available to cities and counties on a competitive basis to undertake eligible community development activities. These funds must be used to benefit low and moderate income persons.

The activities for which these funds may be used are in the areas of housing, public facilities and economic development. More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements and the rating system will be held at the Hancock County Courthouse on March 25, 1996 at 6:00 p.m.

Published by order of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, this 4th day of March, 1996.

Volunteers needed for Special Olympics

The mass of gold-colored t-shirts cheers as the Olympic torch, carried by one of its own, lights the flame for the games to begin. And begin they will on March 30 as athletes from four counties gather again this year at the John C. Stennis Space Center (SSC) for the 14th Area III Special Olympics games.

This fun-filled day of track and field competition could not be held without the many volunteers and sponsors who give their time and donations to make this a memorable day for the athletes, said Becky Rotundo, SSC's 1996 Special Olympics coordinator.

"Volunteers are the backbone of the day's activities," she said. "They run events, work with athletes, provide entertainment and perform many behind-the-scenes functions." Volunteers who work with athletes accompany athletes to their events, shout encouragement to them during the games and give and receive many bear hugs and beaming smiles.

"My husband and I volunteered last year and had such a good time with the athletes that we're going back again this year," said Margaret Prevou of Bay St. Louis.

Many civic organizations sponsor athletes, which pays for t-shirts for the sponsor and the athlete, the athlete's meal and medals.

Please use the volunteer form in today's paper. For information on sponsoring an athlete, call Becky Rotundo at (601) 688-5328 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Shoreline Park toddler drowns

BY RICHARD MEEK

A two-year-old girl drowned in Shoreline Park around midday on Wednesday, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

Peterson said Seirra Marie Hess, the daughter of James and Lisa Hess of 4011 Trout St., drowned around 12:30 p.m. after apparently walking out of her house alone.

Peterson said James Hess had arrived home from work at 4:30 a.m. on Wednesday. Hess told investigators his daughter was awake, and that he put her in bed with her and his wife.

Peterson said Lisa Hess awoke at 6:30 a.m., put Seirra back to bed in the child's room, and returned to bed. According to the sheriff, when Lisa Hess awoke at 12:30 p.m., Seirra was not in her room. Lisa Hess walked outside, and found her daughter's body floating in a nearby canal, Peterson added.

Peterson said the case is still under investigation, and that the Hancock County Department of Human Services has been called in to assist.

Lumber center to open in Bay

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Bailey Lumber and Home Center officials plan to open a store on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

After a series of meetings in executive session, City Council agreed Tuesday night to terms of a lease of property, with an option to buy it, facilitating the new business. The city-owned land is on Bayou Galare Road, north of Taconi's Hardware. A portion of the city tract touches Highway 90.

Mayor Eddie Favre was authorized Tuesday to negotiate a final lease package with the firm. He said the city has agreed to a three-year lease, at $1,800 annually, with a $3,000 initial payment.

The purchase price is set at $19,000, Favre said. Sherwood R. Bailey Jr., president of the corporation which owns Bailey Lumber and Home Center, told The Sea Coast Echo he has a contract to purchase the adjoining Taconi property.

Plans call for renovating the existing building, and placing an addition on its east side, Bailey said. Between six and 10 local employees will be hired for the business, Bailey said.

The Bay St. Louis store will be the third Bailey venture on the Gulf Coast. The company also operates stores in Ocean Springs and Gulfport.

Council has been discussing possible sale of its 1.1-acre tract of land for the project since last December, when officials said at a meeting that three appraisals on the city-owned land ranged from $12,000 to $55,000.

Favre said Wednesday the $55,000 appraisal had been re-evaluated by the appraiser, and lowered to $19,000. The mayor said the reappraisal properly takes into account the existing state of the property.

"I think we have an opportunity to bring a great retail development" to the city, said Favre Wednesday. The project probably will increase sales taxes generated from the property by four times over, he said.

Major stamp show

On Friday through Sunday, March 8-10, the Gulf Coast Stamp Club will present Gulf Coast Stamp Expo '96 at the Holiday Inn-Gulfport Airport at 9435 Hwy. 49 at Exit 34A off I-10 in Gulfport. Hours are noon-7 p.m. Friday; 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday; and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday.

Admission is free, and ample free parking is available. Free philatelic newspapers will be available, provided by Stamp Expo, a division of Quality Collectors Show Inc. of Memphis, producer of the show.

Dealers from all over the South will offer a wide variety of stamps and covers from the U.S., the Confederacy and nations worldwide.

Collectors of all levels of expertise as well as interested non-collectors are invited to buy, sell, trade or just browse. Many dealers will offer free verbal appraisals of philatelic items.

Bourse chairman Bill Callahan, of Troy, Ala., commented, "We are pleased to again be working with all the fine folks in the Gulf Coast Stamp Club and the great staff at the Holiday Inn to bring the people of the area another of our long-running series of major stamp shows."

The sale will bring together goods contributed from more than 40 homes, including nearly the entire contents of one two-bedroom condominium and ranging from golf gear and electronic equipment to furniture, appliances and many other personal and household goods.

Diamondhead Lions Club slates two-day garage sale

A two-day event that promises to be one of the biggest garage sales Hancock County has ever seen has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 16-17 by the Diamondhead Lions Club to raise funds for its many community-service activities.

The sale will bring together goods contributed from more than 40 homes, including nearly the entire contents of one two-bedroom condominium and ranging from golf gear and electronic equipment to furniture, appliances and many other personal and household goods.

The site of the sale is at 1446 Hanakealoha Place in the section of Diamondhead south of I-10. Visitors will need only to drive south from interstate exit 16 and follow arrows west along Airport Boulevard and then south to the sale.

Sales will begin each day at 9 a.m. and close at 4 p.m. Buyers or contributors of goods wishing more information may call Lions President Jim Gressett, 255-3611, or other members at 255-8646 or 255-6196.

The Diamondhead Lions support many community services and benefits for the handicapped and underprivileged but are best known for their work to help the blind and others with visual handicaps.

Wreck claims woman

A local woman was killed Saturday afternoon in a head-on collision on the Bay St. Louis bridge one mile west of the Harrison County line.

According to reports from the Mississippi Highway Patrol, the wreck occurred when a vehicle driven by Edward W. Whitman, 67, of Lake Road, Wisc., crossed the westbound lane and struck the vehicle being driven by Dr. David K. Young, 63, of 611 Hancock Street, Bay St. Louis.

Young's wife, Martha Young, 64, was riding on the passenger side, and died in the crash.

The Highway patrol is investigating the accident, the 10th traffic fatality recorded on the Coast this year.

A native of Springfield, Mass., Young was active in the Hancock County Literacy Program. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, two daughters, and a brother.

Funeral services for her were held Wednesday at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis.

Marine geologist at SSC

Allen Lowrie, marine geologist/oceanographer, of the Naval Oceanographic Office will teach eighth grade students of St. Stanislaus the evolution of Southern Mississippi beaches March 11, 11 a.m.-noon.

Lowrie said, "The story told will include material of beach nourishment, why it is done and how the beach replacement is destroyed by the natural processes, and how the beach is replaced again in about five years."

Excerpts from Lowrie's geological walk describe the Bay of St. Louis as only 6,000 to 7,000 years old, coming into being as the sea level rose to its present position.

The rise began after the Bay was 400 feet below present sea level, during the coldest part of the last Ice Age.

Going back further, Lowrie tells how the Bay St. Louis was only the river of the combined Jourdan and Wolf rivers. Then, the river (bay) plowed southward to a shoreline approximately 100 miles farther out from today's shoreline.

The geology of this area is complex with numerous interlocking components. Separating the components to see what they are and what each contributes can lead to an exciting adventure for everyone.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I know there must be some of you who thought all the parades were over with for another year.

Well, it is not quiet that way, because we still have the annual St. Patrick's Day parade scheduled for Saturday, March 16.

The parade is sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association, and the organization is now soliciting parade entries.

A form appears elsewhere in this issue of The Echo. They are looking for floats, trucks, cars, bicycles, marchers, etc.

The annual parade through Waveland's streets is very popular and grows in size each year.

For further information, call Jay Lagasse, 467-7400, or Jay Fountain, 467-2198.

In reading a newsletter from the Sea Grant Advisory Service, I noted a section on the 1995 shrimp landings in Mississippi.

The 9.7 million pounds (headless weight) was noted as the best year ever.

That 9.7 million pounds is a lot of shrimp even when one considers the fact the total Gulf landings were 142 million pounds.

We read and hear a lot about protecting the waters of the area, which include the Gulf of Mexico.

Many dollars in revenue are generated from the Gulf of Mexico in seafood, and shrimping is really only a small part of the yield.

We need to go all out to protect the waters of our canals, ditches, bayous and rivers, as they all end up in the Gulf of Mexico.

Bay St. Louis-Waveland Altrusa International will hold its annual spring benefit dinner on Sunday.

The Altrusa Club over the years has been a vital organization within our community and plays an important role in helping women return to school, along with many other community projects.

The benefit dinner will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Eastern Star building on Bouslog Street, one block from Highway 90 near the post office.

Dinners are for a donation of $7 each, and tickets may be purchased from Altrusa members or at the door. Reservations for either sit-down or take-outs are accepted by phoning MaryLee Lagarde at 467-6686 or Ruth Johns at 467-6167.

The menu will be a choice of chicken divan with rice pilaf or beef Stroganoff with fancy green beans.

Sounds like this may be a good way to get "Mama" out of the kitchen for Sunday dinner.

MUNICIPALITIES

Q. When must a municipality have tax anticipation loans repaid?

A. By March 15 ($21-33-325)

Q. How long should a municipality preserve its records?

A. A board policy should be developed, as provided by Section 21-27-93 and 21-15-35. The county law, Section 9-5-171, may serve as a useful model.

Q. Is mandatory training required for municipal court clerks?

A. Yes. Linda Beasley at the Judicial College (telephone 232-5955) will arrange this shelter?

A. No. ($93-21-115)

Q. May a municipality refund taxes it collected in error?

A. Yes. ($27-73-7)

training for March, 1996 ($21-23-12)

Q. How may a municipality obtain a copy of a bill in the Mississippi Legislature?

A. Call the House of Representatives Docket Room at 601-359-3358 or the Senate Docket Clerk at 601-359-3229.

Q. Is there a limit to how much money a municipality may donate to a domestic violence

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Zoning Zone

To the Editor:

Lately every time I pick up a paper or go to a meeting the main topic of discussion is zoning and how it is our savior.

What is zoning? Will it clean out our ditches, will it replace caved-in culverts, will it pave or even gravel our terrible roads, will it protect us from criminals, will it stop welfare fraud, will it create jobs, or will it collect money owed for taxes to our county by a certain casino? "NO."

We need zoning like we need more government. If you live in the county you should be free to raise animals, to build a small affordable house to get started in life, or even live in a bus.

It is your piece of America, not a zoning committee's to dictate what, when, where and how to do what you want to do. If we had wanted that, do you think we could have settled in the county instead of town?

As long as we are not discharging waste into the ditches that will endanger our neighbors or ourselves, or causing any other kind of annoyance, you should be left alone.

Also, anyone building a $100,000 home somewhere that doesn't have codes or on plenty of land should not gripe because their neighbor is not in the same tax bracket.

Don't judge your neighbor, don't kick him when he is down. If he is trying, let him do his best; for I had rather see him living in a shack or a bus with his freedom of choice than homesteading in a government subsidized housing project that we are all paying for.

Our property value will not increase with zoning for years to come, but the use of it will decrease now.

There will be no starting your own business out of your home to get ahead in life or raising animals for food to cut back on the use of food stamps.

I urge the citizens of Hancock county to call or write your supervisor, or even better yet, go to the meetings and let your voice be heard about what is not going to benefit them.

We are still a free county, so say no to the communistic way and yes to a free choice. "Push For A Vote."

Concerned Taxpayer,
Thomas Payne

Waveland resident opposed to proposed tourism tax

Dear Editor:

Reference: Your editorial on the proposed 2 percent additional tax on hotel/motel rooms, food and beverages — why?

It isn't often you write any editorial; (the need exists from time to time), but to favor extra taxation for tourism is quixotic.

We need better roads, better drainage and other amenities, which this tax will not address as all the monies will go to pay for a tourism commission and its grandiose scheme of advertising.

Before opting for more taxes, we should collect taxes on the thousands of meals and beverages given complimentary to casino patrons. Will the new law change that? I think not.

Being a local resident, we have to pay for food (and pay taxes) should we dine at casinos as they rarely offer Hancock citizens any complimentary food while out-of-towners get the food free, and the state collects zero tax. If we make casinos pay tax on all the freebies we could use those funds for tourism.

Now pray tell, what grand attractions does Hancock have to offer that are not already being promoted by casinos, hotel/motels and NASA or other private industry?

Regards,
Royce P. Kaupp

Reader feels zoning decreases land values

To the Editor:

I have been a licensed real estate broker for many years, mostly dealing in land.

It should be remembered that our system of government is based on market value, supply and demand. When we begin to regulate and zone things, whether it be land or commodities, it is almost impossible to be fair and deal in equity when we begin to try to zone land.

We are interfering with the supply-side system and decreasing the value of land, disregarding the present and future value of land.

Vehicle crash survivors invited to join club

All Mississippians, whose lives were spared in 1995 motor vehicle crashes by using safety belts or child protective devices, are invited to apply for membership in the "Saved By The Belt Club."

Sponsored by the Mississippi Division of Public Safety Planning to stress the advantage of using the occupant protection devices, the club honors its members with membership certificates and an annual luncheon.

Applications for membership may be obtained by contacting Becky Webster, the division's occupant restraint coordinator, at Public Safety Planning, Box 23039, Jackson 39225-3039, telephone 359-7880. Completed applications must be received by March 22.

"The Saved By The Belt Club provides dramatic evidence that occupant protection devices save lives. By honoring these individuals, we hope to encourage others to take this important safety step," said Donald O'Cain, governor's representative for highway safety and Division of Public Safety Planning executive director.

"Approximately 80 percent of Mississippians killed each year in motor vehicle crashes are not using safety belts or child safety seats," O'Cain said. "Our studies indicate that as many as 325 of those killed could have been saved by these devices."

Commentary

A new day in school district

BY RICHARD MEEK

A political upheaval in Hancock County that began in December of 1994 came to a climax on Saturday when challenger Bryon Griffith stunned Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board President Linda Penrose with a decisive defeat.

It was only fitting that Griffith's triumph came in Waveland, where not even 18 months ago the winds of political change that swept through the county last year first began to swirl. It was then Waveland voters, apparently weary of the tomfoolery that had defined the city's politics, voted in an entire new board of aldermen and mayor.

The backlash continued during last year's political season, as many pols previously considered untouchable, went down in shocking defeats. This past year, the county watched as all new supervisors, a new chancery clerk and Hancock County School District superintendent were sworn in.

Given the county's current political unrest, Griffith's win was only a minor surprise. But the bombshell was the ease in which he won.

Penrose, a two-term incumbent seeking a third term, was able to muster a scant 109 votes, well short of Griffith's 383. Obviously, voters had a message to send, if barely over 100 people supported a 10-year incumbent.

Penrose said the deciding factor in the race was money. She said "the other side" had "big money" to spend to get their message out.

There may be some truth and sour grapes in that claim, but 10 years of effective service should have been the only message Penrose needed. But Griffith represented change to an electorate that has seemingly been seduced by change in the recent past.

Penrose served the district's students well and should stand proudly by her accomplishments. But she ended an otherwise distinguished career entangled in her agenda, and the agendas of a few self-serving parents. She had become a vocal opponent of superintendent Paul Tisdale in the past year, not for differences in educational doctrines, but because of antithetical opinions on cheerleaders, dissection of cats and one personnel matter.

Penrose led an attempt to fire Tisdale in recent years, but was stonewalled when the board was informed that such a move would carry at least a contractual price tag of approximately $150,000, and possibly more if the dethroned superintendent would have pursued legal avenues of recompense. Not even a year earlier, however, Penrose had approved an extension of Tisdale's contract.

Griffith's election will mean a new and progressive direction for the district, and ultimately its students. He is a no-nonsense individual, with definitive ideas on education.

The board should work well with Tisdale, also a progressive thinker on educational treatises.

Some have claimed Griffith's election secures the future for the beleaguered superintendent. But they are wrong. If anything, a favorable board increases pressure on the superintendent to perform, as he can focus all of his energy on directing the district, and not worry about trite matters.

Tisdale's contract expires in two years. Whether he is offered a renewal will depend on a fair evaluation of his job performance. That's all he has ever wanted; not to have personalities take precedence over accomplishments.

It is indeed a new dawn for students in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, one that carries with it hope for a bright future.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

By Representative Dirk Dedeaux

DEDEAUX OPPOSES RAISING HIS PAY AND SUPPORTS INTERSTATE SPEED LIMITS Submitted by Dirk Dedeaux, State Representative District 93

Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone Counties

Last week the House of Representatives passed a bill with an amendment which would allow for an expense pay increase for legislators.

The bill passed the House with 66 yeas and 54 nays.

"I voted against raising my own pay," Dedeaux said. "We knew what the job paid when we ran for the office, and we should be satisfied with that." The pay increase is not expected to pass the Senate.

Also, legislation was passed which will allow the Transportation Commission to raise the speed limit on interstates to 70 mph. On some state highways the speed could be raised to 65 mph.

This legislation was made possible after a 1974 federal statute which restricted speed limits was repealed by the United States Congress.

An attempt to divert $1 million in Medicaid funds to provide extra funding for the Department of Environmental Quality was defeated.

"I believe that the DEQ needs the extra funding to operate for the next year," Dedeaux said, "but, I am opposed to funding the DEQ by cutting medical aid for the elderly. We will just have to make the necessary cuts and find the money elsewhere."

Ronnie McDowell to perform

Forty-eight tracks. Maybe even 64.

That's about what it takes, not necessarily to record his music, but to capture the ever-growing multitude of talent possess by singer, songwriter, performer Ronnie McDowell.

McDowell and Scotty Moore, the inventor of rock-n-roll guitar, are returning to the PRCC River Extravaganza Sunday, March 24.

Donna Wilson polled the nearly 800 guests who attended last year's show and 80 percent said they wanted Ronnie back.

"He loves The River, and we love him," said Wilson. He has become part of our family."

Wilson said McDowell has a very professional and cooperative organization.

For year he has had top country music hits like Older Women, Wanderin' Eyes, and You're Gonna Rum My Bad Reputation. And his 1990 version of the Righteous Brothers' hit, Unchained Melody, struck a chord with both country-western lovers and other music fans.

"I love all kinds of music, not just one type," McDowell said. "I love jazz and classical, too, and my show is like my taste in music. I do everything in my show. I just span the gamut."

"In 19 years of performing, I've never done the same show twice," said McDowell. "My band nows the first two numbers I'm going to do, and we wing it from there."

The Extravaganza is one of about 150 dates he will play this year. He entertains regularly at the famous Nugget in Reno and he was on TNN's Music City Tonight show for every week for 18 months.

McDowell is a family man who is also an extremely creative sculptor, sign painter, animation artist, watercolor artist and caricature artist, as well as a musical creator and a talent manager.

Book signing

Bookends Bookstore hosts New Orleans author Tony Dunbar for an autographing on Saturday, March 9 at 3 p.m.

Dunbar will sign City of Beads (Putnam) the second in his mystery series starring attorney Tubby Dubbonnet.

Tubby's friend Potter Auloff is found dead, floating in the peanut oil-filled hold of his barge. While trying to find the men responsible for Potter's murder, Tubby begins work with a new riverfront casino in New Orleans researching liquor licenses; at the same time his daughter convinces him to accept a pro bono case involving the industrial pollution of the Mississippi River.

For those who enjoyed Crooked Man (now available in paperback), Tubby and his crew of motley New Orleans characters are a welcome return.

Bookends, 111 Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis, will reserve books for anyone unable to attend. Call 467-9623 for information.

The River Extravaganza is Pearl River's biggest fundraising event of the year. Fifteen area restaurants will provide the food, and an auction will be held before McDowell takes the stage.

The event starts at 5 p.m., and tickets cost $30 per person. For information call 795-1183.

INTRODUCING MEMORIAL HOSPITAL'S NICU NEW LEVEL OF SAFETY FOR YOUR NEWBORN

(left) Medical Director and neonatologist Dr. Clinton B. White is proud of the 11-bed NICU which has two isolation beds for babies with viruses or other contagious diseases; 10 neonatal vital sign monitors; and five state-of-the-art ventilators which deliver oxygen in synchrony with a baby's own breathing.

You've had good prenatal care, so you assume you'll have a healthy, full-term baby, but some things, such as the incidence of premature labor, just don't show up in prenatal examinations. Now, because of advanced technology and staffing expertise, a neonatal intensive care unit, known as NICU, can spell survival for seriously ill newborns. It is a vital part of many obstetrical units—so significant, in fact, that many obstetricians won't admit patients to a hospital without one. Until Memorial opened its NICU—the only NICU in a civilian hospital on the Mississippi Coast—babies who required special care had to be transported to Jackson, New Orleans or Mobile. Now, those little ones and their parents can stay close to home, helping the entire family to become actively involved in the care of the infant. Memorial's NICU has a medical staff of three neonatologists and its nurses average eight-ten years' experience. Other health professionals, such as respiratory therapists with neonatal expertise, are also a part of the NICU. Within a few months, Memorial's NICU will have transport capabilities which will mean babies from other Coast hospitals can be easily and safely moved to Memorial for neonatal care.

USMGC 'Test Drive program' offers varied curriculum

The summer course list for the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast's new Test Drive a Degree program offers a wide range of choices to those interested in re-starting their college careers.

USMGC's Test Drive program, announced in early February, offers a course without a tuition charge to students who have 54 semester hours of college credit, a minimum C grade-point average and who have not attended college for three years, as an incentive to return to school and complete a degree, said Dr. James Williams, dean of USMGC.

The program also includes sessions designed to acquaint returning students with the college classroom and provide further incentive to complete the degree.

The first Test Drive courses will be offered during the summer semester. The College Survival course — which includes tips on how to study, time management, etc. — is part of the summer schedule, along with a long list of courses Williams said should provide a good contribution to any degree program.

Among the study areas students can Test Drive this summer are:

- Business, like accounting, finance, management and marketing.
- Child development, including overview courses in general development and children's literature and more specific courses like child, educational and adolescent psychology.
- Computer science, courses that focus on programming and microcomputer applications in education.
- Nursing courses, including death and bereavement, health financing and a directed study of nursing.

- Psychology programs dealing with aging and dying and with religion.

Individual courses in criminal justice and environmental science are planned. Other courses may be available as part of the Test Drive program with the approval of the appropriate academic division chair.

To get started in the program, contact USMGC from Jackson or Hancock counties at 1-800-488-0742, or from Harrison County at (601) 863-6691 to receive an application brochure.

Student in MSU Co-op program

Keith Wade Spraberry of Waveland is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in accounting, Spraberry is working toward a degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student on alternating semesters in Bay St. Louis with Coast Electric Power.

USM summer camps

Students in grades 1-12 and interested adults may plan now to attend athletic, music and special-interest camps offered this summer by the University of Southern Mississippi.

Whether attending as a sports team, a cheerleading or dance squad, a yearbook staff or as an individual, participants in any of the 36 camps can experience new challenges, says Kathy Bailey, marketing coordinator for USM Continuing Education.

This year, USM is offering two new camps: a Cross Country Camp for runners and the Girls Setter/Middle Hitter Camp for volleyball players.

USM offers boys, girls and co-ed camps, and students have the option of commuting or staying overnight for most camps.

Prices range from $95 to $225, depending on the type and length of the camp and whether the camper is staying on campus.

The summer camps are

Actor Training Institute, age 15 to adult, dates to be announced;

A group of University of Southern Mississippi geographers, cartographers and communications specialists are teaming up with the University Press of Mississippi to produce a new Mississippi state atlas.

Team members will represent USM's Department of Geography and Area Development, and will include communications personnel at the university's Center for Community and Economic Development.

The book will feature about 200 pages of color maps, photographs and graphics, as well as articles explaining Mississippi's history, resources, economic activity and other characteristics.

Dr. Robert Wales, a USM geography professor and CCED's administrative manager, will co-edit the atlas with Dr. Julie Elbert, an assistant professor of geography at USM. Dr. Donald Williams, USM associate professor, will serve as chief cartographers.

Wales expects the new book to help Mississippi's economy.

"This atlas will serve a vital public need," he maintained. "If other fast growth states are any indicator, then state atlases are becoming a valuable tool in the (economic development) marketing process.

"It will be a great reference work for educational purposes," Wales added. "It will update knowledge of the state and make people more aware of what we have in Mississippi."

Wales co-edited the state's 1974 atlas and is the editor of past editions of World Book Encyclopedia's Mississippi section.

Elbert specializes in cartography and remote sensing applications.

Williams is the author of many publications on cartography and remote sensing.

Williams will use an Arc-Info Geographic Information System to make the maps, which will allow for comparisons of data from different maps. He hopes the new system also will help the atlas get into cyberspace.

The atlas will be published by the University Press of Mississippi, non-profit publisher for the state's universities. Publication is scheduled for the late summer of 1997.

Johnson Controls receives national Job Corps award

Johnson Controls World Services FOSS (Facility Operations and Support Services) Project, located at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center, was selected to receive the national Job Corps Coalition's first annual Alpha Award for outstanding business support of Job Corps.

The National Job Corps Coalition, which consists of 70 organizations representing business, labor, advocacy and volunteer organizations, named the Alpha Award after the brightest star in a constellation.

Johnson Controls was nominated by the Gulfport Job Corps Center, which serves 600 students annually and is operated by Res-Care Inc. The Alpha Award was presented March 6 in Washington D.C., by U.S. Secretary of Labor Robert Reich. Representing the FOSS project was its general manager, Keith Humphries, along with performance management officer Leo Braun and Denise Dedeaux, coordinator of minority affairs. Also attending was Michelle Braun, women in community service counselor, who coordinates this partnership at the Gulfport Job Corps Center. Johnson Controls demonstrates its support of local education through the national Adopt-A-School program. The FOSS Project "adopted" the Gulfport Job Corps Center in 1989.

Through this adoption, employees serve as mentors for students enrolled in the Gulfport Job Corps Center so that they can observe first-hand the job skills necessary for future careers.

"Supporting the Gulfport Job Corps Center as our adopted school is a very positive experience for Johnson Controls and our employees," Humphries said.

"Our Stennis workers from all levels have had direct working relations with the center's students and staff. We are gratified by the success that the Gulfport Job Corps achieves with their program. They do an outstanding job, and we are proud to be associated with them. The Alpha Award is a wonderful surprise and a high honor," he said.

According to Karen Simmons, Gulfport Job Corps center director, Johnson Controls has provided substantial training opportunities for students and staff during its seven-year partnership. Employees from Johnson Controls serve on our community relations council," Simmons said. "Johnson Controls employees with the NASA Teacher Resource Center have conducted data entry, science, math and reading workshops for students."

Every six weeks, students are selected to participate in the Johnson Controls Mentor Program at Stennis Space Center, during which they receive hands-on training for different careers.

"That alone helps our students set high goals for the future," Simmons said.

"Despite Job Corps' documented results, last year was one of the group's most challenging times in history," said LaVera Leonard, chair of the National Job Corps Coalition. "With pressure on Congress to eliminate programs, block grant others and drastically cut federal spending, Job Corps was put in peril," she said. "Johnson Controls is truly exemplary in their level of support for Job Corps. They are most deserving of this national award."

PRCC, Calgon receive Best Practices Award

Pearl River Community College and Calgon Carbon Corporation of Pearlington have received the Best Practices Award from the state Workforce Development Council.

The award is presented to a Mississippi community college/business partnership that exhibits continued success and innovativeness.

In 1991, Calgon Carbon invested in a new, state-of-the-art plant to manufacture granular activated carbon. The Pennsylvania company chose Pearl River and Hancock County over locations in neighboring states partly because of its proximity to raw materials and the export market.

But more importantly, says Calgon management, the company chose Mississippi for the state's ability to provide the key ingredients for a successful and timely start-up.

Through Pearl River Community College, the state helped Calgon assess and select its people, located facilities to house the assessments and brought in two mobile units to conduct training on-site.

"The Calgon unit has worked hard, and more importantly, they have worked smart," said PRCC President Ted Alexander. "The company has succeeded in forging a team from top to bottom with a shared vision and mission."

Pearl River worked with Calgon to produce training manuals and continues to assist the company in developing team skills, internal safety and quality assurance.

Operations within the plant are run by self-directed work teams. Because the team concept is being developed from the ground up, Calgon selects its workforce by assessing specific behavioral skills such as problem solving and communication.

Pearl River Community College staff became knowledgeable in this type of assessment during start-up, so when the company hires additional technicians, Pearl River handles the process.

"It is the combination and collaboration of industry and community college assets that will assure our success in training and upgrading the quality of the state's workforce," said Alexander.

"Together, we have the understanding, the resources and skills to make good things happen for the working men and women of our state."

Automated equipment in the Pearl River plant has lowered conversion costs and helped justify implementing similar equipment at Calgon's other facilities.

Calgon Carbon's Pearl River plant is serving its corporation as a model for the future through its state-of-the-art technology, innovative management style and partnership with Pearl River College.

Calgon's operations manager Scott Lemon accepted the award for the company and Alexander, PRCC Industrial Coordinator Alex Ross, and PRCC District Workforce Development Council Chairman Bobby Chain accepted for the college.

Alex has labored for several years now with training the workforce in our district," said Alexander. "His work is having a major impact."

Advertising seminar set for small businesses

On Wednesday, March 13, the USM Small Business Development Center, the Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, The Gulf Coast Business Technology Center and the Performa Adnet will co-sponsor "Taming The Beast: An Introduction To Marketing and Advertising Services."

The seminar will give small businesses a general introduction to the services available to them by ad agencies, printers, graphic designers, internet specialists and direct mail specialists.

Registration beings at 8:30 a.m. at the Gulf Coast Business Technology Center, 1636 Poppo Ferry Road, Biloxi. Tickets are $10 in advance from the USM SBDC or $15 at registration and include a continental breakfast.

Speakers will include Scott Westbrook from Performa Adnet, Corrine Carter from Magnolia Printing Co., Barry Waid from Waidsoft, Karen Earnest from Personal Business Mail, and Keith B. Campbell from Diversified Interests Inc.

For information, contact the USM SBDC at 865-4578.

Deitenbeck achieves fellowship

Bill Deitenbeck, Memorial Hospital at Gulfport's director of engineering, was recently named a Fellow in the Mississippi Hospital Association Society for Plant, Technology and Safety.

Fellowship is the highest level of achievement in the state hospital society's professional organization for healthcare engineers and plant managers.

A graduate of the University of Southwestern Louisiana with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and industrial technology and a master's degree in business administration, Deitenbeck has been MHG's director of engineering since January 1989.

He is also a registered professional engineer, a certified clinical engineer, a diplomat in the American College of Healthcare Executives and a senior member of the American Society of Hospital Engineers.

Is your puppy too much to handle?

Having a family pet can be more frustrating than rewarding if the animal is unruly and disobedient. A training expert says there are some things even novices can do to create well-mannered canine companions.

Jane Yeatman, a Mississippi State University professor with years of obedience training experience, says the best advice is start young.

"Owners must be willing to devote considerable training time within the animal's first year. If this isn't possible, I'd recommend not buying a puppy."

Other advice: think positive. "Dog training has evolved from an emphasis on punishment to an emphasis on positive reinforcement," she explains. "Punishment causes the dog to dislike obedience, while positive reinforcement creates better results and a happier dog."

Positive reinforcement is training characterized by verbal praise. "Although food treats also are effective, verbal praise allows the owner to develop good communication with the dog."

Yeatman advises dog owners to keep training activities fun both for themselves and the dog. "If the situation becomes frustrating, it is best to take a break and try again later."

To change undesirable behavior, Yeatman suggests:

- Redirect attention. "For example, provide a chew bone if the dog is chewing a table leg." The dog eventually will learn to chew only the bone.

- Don't reward undesirable behavior by mistake. Yelling at a dog barking outside only gives the dog the attention it's seeking. "Sometimes it's best to just ignore the animal."

- Socialize the animal. "Dogs should learn to behave around other dogs and people. Take them for walks around the block, at the park or any place where there are other dogs and people."

- Go to school. "Because of the large number of dogs and people usually present, an obedience class is the most valuable place to socialize a dog."

Honor student

Donna M. Hardy, daughter of Mrs. Ruth R. Thompson of Bay St. Louis, was named to the dean's list of Emory College, the undergraduate, liberal arts college of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga. for the 1996 fall semester.

Students must earn a grade point average of 3.31 or higher to be named to the dean's list.

Dumping

Rubbish Site said he saw asbestos shingles and medical waste buried at Standard last Sept. 14. He said he presented the evidence to the District Attorney's office because he wanted the Hancock County Grand Jury to investigate the charges.

Assistant District Attorney Charles Wood said the tape, a map and photos provided by Ladner have been sent to the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality for investigation.

The charges on the tape recording were leveled by a former county employee identified as Otis "Curly" Lewis, who worked at the rubbish site. Lewis never came before supervisors, but Ladner said he has offered to show officials where the waste is buried, and he would testify in court.

Lewis worked at the rubbish site when Trans-American Inc., of Mobile, Ala., took over its operations last September, and he was dismissed only recently.

Hancock County Solid Waste Chairman Les Fillingame told

Zoning

ple, there would be no need for this document," said Thissell. But, she said, "greed comes in and some property owners want to use the land as they see fit, with no regard to their neighbors."

To those who want to call a referendum on zoning, saying this would be the democratic way, Thissell said, "No, we are not a Democracy. We are a Republic within a Democracy."

"You just elected these five supervisors to represent you. You put your faith and trust in them. Let them make this decision. They are the ones who will decide the future growth of this county or if it will sink further into despair."

Attorney John Scaffide, who advises the planning commission, gave citizens a background on the development of the zoning proposal.

"He said the Commission 'wants to hear your suggestions on the plan, and some really good ideas have come out of the two previous meetings.'

"We want to make this plan a county plan rather than the work of just a few people," said Scaffide.

He said comments and suggestions would be incorporated into a final zoning ordinance that would be presented to supervisors in their April 15 meeting.

Bill Hessell, the planner who came up with dividing land use in the county into seven districts based on historical use of the land, told citizens each district provides for "permitted and conditional uses."

He said people in any district would go before the Planning Commission, and should have no problem gaining approval for anything already permitted within their district.

Those who want to construct something not permitted in the particular district would go before the commission to seek a waiver, he said.

Hessell said the county would have to hire a zoning enforcement officer to handle all building requests.

Hessell reiterated that any business operation or residential situation already existing before the zoning ordinance is passed would be "grandfathered in" and allowed to continue to exist within each district.

He also emphasized that, "Zoning has no bearing on your property taxes."

Hessell said the county tax assessor "places a value on your land based on its use." If you change the use of the land from residential to commercial, your taxes would change, he said.

Speakers for or against the ordinance were allowed two minutes each to comment following the brief presentations. Some submitted written comment without requesting to speak.

Diamondhead resident Eddie Gobert said he was "positively for getting this initiative off the ground."

He urged citizens to support supervisors who want to pass the ordinance.

Former Supervisor Jerry Ladner, who had attended the two previous public meetings, was present again. He said he was "against any type of government control."

He urged citizens to read the text of the proposed zoning ordinance. "This is serious. You are setting up a government body that wants to tell you what to do with your property," said Ladner.

He said he wanted zoning to go to a vote of the people, and asked those in the audience who felt the same way to raise their hands. About 10 people showed support for a referendum.

Woodrow Ladner, who said he was a former member of the Planning Commission, and has lived most of his life off Cuevas Town Road, and "at one time, I knew all my neighbors."

He said he and a neighbor who might want to do something different in the neighborhood used to be able to talk things over and reach a compromise.

"It's not that way anymore," said Ladner.

Ladner said the noise and activity at "beer joints" on Hwy. 53 and Dedeaux Road were a constant source of concern to him and some neighbors.

"A zoning ordinance will help protect people from this type of activity," he said.

Suzette Zoerner had attended other hearings too, and she told citizens she lives next door to a man on Webster Street in Bayside Park, who is raising pigs.

"I can't sit on my porch," Zoerner said. "The stench is so terrible. I can't afford to move and I can't afford to buy other property."

She said she has appealed to "the EPA, the Agriculture Department, and the Health Department" and no one has done anything about the situation.

"Perhaps, if we were zoned, this would not have happened."

She said if zoning "improved property values and gets roads paved, I'm for it."

Zoerner was supported by her pastor, the Rev. Eric Rugillo and his wife, Rev. Karen Rugillo.

Mrs. Rugillos said, "I'm a country girl, and I was raised on a large farm off of Hwy. 53 in Harrison County."

"It's not the government, it's the people who infringe on other people's rights. I'm for zoning," she said.

Rev. Rugillo claimed he has seen children "getting fungus and sores" from playing in the neighborhood where the pigs are being raised.

He said this situation is "a health hazard and property values decline."

He claimed zoning would prevent the situation from happening in the future.

David Ladner also called for a vote on the issue.

"We don't need the (planning) Commission to run our lives. They can't even keep the roads up now. I own 140 acres, and people can't tell me what to do," he said.

Planning Commission staffers have been keeping a tally on comment cards of those speaking or voting on zoning.

At Monday night's meeting, 26 residents were in favor of zoning, seven against, with eight undecided on the issue.

supervisors that Lewis was "possibly disgruntled" because he was discharged.

But, supervisors agreed to Fillingame's suggestions to forward all the information to DEQ and let them question Lewis, hear the tape and review pictures provided by Ladner.

"Then, if they think we need to dig, we'll dig," said Fillingame.

Board of Supervisors President Philip Moran told Ladner, "Before we go and dig up a place twice as big as this room, I want to hear more about exactly what he (Lewis) saw. What type of medical waste? Are we looking for sheets, syringes or what?"

District 2 Supervisor Rodrick "Rocky" Pullman also asked Ladner, "If we go out there and dig in the spot, and it's not there, then another person comes in. Do we have to dig again? At what point do we stop?"

District 4 Supervisor Steve Seymour said, "You just don't go on a place and start digging holes. That's like trying to find a treasure box."

Ted Adams, the man who oversees dumping operations at Standard for Trans-American, said the rubbish site has been seeded, and workers are only working one area of the 40-acre site. He said this seeded area (where the alleged dumping occurred) would not be disturbed.

Adams said Standard's permit allows it to accept construction debris, including roof shingles, but not asbestos shingles.

He also offered to check his records to see what RTI dumped at Standard.

At a meeting of the Solid Waste District Wednesday afternoon, Fillingame said he tried to call Otis, and invite him to the District's meeting, but he was unable to contact him.

Bill Johnson, the District's engineering consultant, confirmed DEQ was contacted, and would be in town today.

Fillingame said Adams has confirmed that RTI dumped at the rubbish site on Sept. 28, and he said he asked Adams to FAX him all pertinent information, which would be turned over to DEQ.

Pier

Once the zoning change is complete, the city will be able to meet the grant requirement to present the state with "a viable project," Longo said.

He said plans for the pier include "a minimum of a live bait shop and concession (stand)."

"This was carefully thought out and planned," Longo said. We can tie the pier in with downtown development. If we do that, it will be great for everybody. It could work."

Longo said he has solicited live bait dealers along the Coast, and all but one have agreed the idea is meritorious. The city would have to put the shop out for bid.

Longo said the city had looked into applying for Tidelands Funds a year ago, but officials were told they had to go to the Board of Supervisors, which is incorrect. They are applying now in hopes of securing the grant for this year.

"The process can take up to 120 days," Longo said. "We'll take whatever we can get. We just want to get into the pipeline."

Since the days of former Mayor Johnny Longo, Tommy Longo's father, the city has had in place a long-range, multi-phase plan for the pier. The Ladner Pier is the only lighted pier with 24-hour security along the Coast, which city officials believe is a major selling point.

The pier is located near Coleman Avenue, the heart of downtown Waveland. Although peppered with deserted buildings, city officials and a citizens' group have been brainstorming with ideas on how to revitalize the area.

Favre

Council engaged in a thorough quiz of Favre before signing up for the travel. Council member James Thriffley abstained, without saying why.

Last year, council refused to pay for a Favre trip to Cancun, despite his insistence that the travel offered a great opportunity to promote tourism for Bay St. Louis. The council's rebuff sparked considerable public comment and reaction -- one local pizza outlet sponsored a fundraiser to help Favre pay for the trip.

While council finally relented and offered to reimburse the mayor for his Mexico travel last year, he turned them down.

This week, Favre said the upcoming trip offers a "great opportunity" for the city to design and participate in programs that will draw tourists to Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Coast.

One such program on the agenda is dubbed the "nautical staircase." Each participating Gulf state is allowed to propose their locations for new or existing marinas that will participate in the project.

Favre said the tourism group amounts to a focused committee that emerged from previous meetings.

The trip is scheduled for March 25 through March 28

The wall that heals

The powerful memory of 58,196 United States soldiers who died in the Vietnam War will rise at the Perkinson Campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College when the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Moving Walls stops for a week-long stay, April 6-11.

A one-half scale, 250-foot replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C., the Moving Wall has been visited by hundreds of thousands of Americans who were unable to make the pilgrimage to Washington.

Commonly referred to as "the wall that heals," the Vietnam Veterans Memorial was created to recognize and honor those who served and died.

Sunrise to sunset, special activities are planned to commemorate the Moving Wall's presence on campus. The college expects over 10,000 people will visit the wall; many will leave mementos of lost loved ones -- letters, flowers, photographs.

A computer program designed to help visitors find the location of particular names on the wall will be installed in the Learning Lab in Huff Hall.

The exhibit will open Saturday, April 6; however, the official opening begins with a sunrise service on Easter Sunday at 7 a.m. It will be conducted by the Stone County Ministerial Association.

Later that afternoon, Gerald Blessey, former Biloxi mayor and a vietnam veteran will be the keynote speaker at a 3 p.m. opening ceremony. It will also include the lighting of an Olympic torch, which will be kept burning throughout the week at the Wall.

Corporate sponsors of the exhibit will also be introduced. They include the Bank of Wiggins, Butch Oustalet Ford, First National Bank of Lucedale, First National Bank of Wiggins, McHenry Pole and Piling Company and Hood Industries.

One the evening of April 8, a special POW/MIA ceremony is planned. Myrna Cody, whose husband, Capt. Howard Cody, is POW/MIA, and Bob May, state POW/MIA chair for the Veterans of Foreign War, will participate along with the Highway Patrol Color Guard.

The closing ceremony will be April 11 at 7 p.m. Thomas Collins, former assistant secretary of labor during the Bush administration and a Vietnam POW, will be speaker. The Keesler Air Force Base Color Guard will also participate.

For information about the Moving Wall exhibit on the Perkinson Campus, call 928-6369.

Krewe of Kamehameha's Carnival Ball

Magical life-size court jesters, backed by towering columns of flickering lights -- one strumming a banjo and one with juggling balls and rings -- flanked the bandstand, setting the theme and mood for merriment in February at the Krewe of Kamehameha's 1996 Carnival Ball.

Jesters' hats resting in collars of purple and green tulle, beads and confetti centered each table in the Grand Ballroom of the Broadwater Resort East. The DeLorio Band kept the revelers hopping until the royal proceedings began with emcee Don Smith's welcome to everyone and introduction of past kings, queen and dignitaries.

With musical fanfare, his Majesty's Duke Bill Cumming escorted her Majesty's Maid Elaine Smith to the royal court area, followed by the King's Equerry Mike Doherty and the Queen's Lady-in-Waiting Pat Outlaw. As the loyal subjects rose, King Akua Kai XXII Jesse Morgan and Queen Kathy Wood, attended by Royal Court Jesters Jay and Stacy Schaffer, entered the ballroom to the traditional "If Ever I Cease

To Love."

Queen Kathy, in a stunning black and silver beaded princess gown and King Jesse's glittering crown and scepter, were compliments to the gold and silver collars and mantles adorned with elaborate symbols of the krewe designed and structured by Bernice Turner.

After promenading to the cheers and applause of their loyal subjects, the monarchs occupied gold lamé thrones as, "All Hail the King and Queen," rang out.

The King's proclamation ordered a year of calm seas, happy times, good health and praise for the devotion and dedication of all the old and young "salts" of his Boating Krewe. Following champagne toasts, the King and Queen shared the first dance, with the court, members, and guests joining in.

The evening was complimented by a gourmet dinner and entertainment program directed by Ruth Moran, chairlady and Decorations Committee head was Gloria Gasper.

2B-THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1996

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Richard Meek

As a brilliant, late winter sun painted an idyllic setting, workers at Casino Magic Driving Range scrambled to put the final touches on what promises to be this area's finest practice facility.

The range, the first phase of the casino's planned $9 million investment, that will eventually incorporate an 18-hole golf course and the Arnold Palmer Golf Academy, is scheduled to open at noon on Saturday. Planned activities to celebrate the opening include a free clinic, free club fitting from a Ping representative and closest-to-the-hole contests for women and men that will award the lucky winners electric golf carts.

"We'll be ready," Magic head pro Joel Jacobson said Monday, as nearby a cement truck poured the parking lot, workers painted light poles, and landscaping was underway.

"We just have a lot of late work to complete, such as inventory pricing and getting my staff trained," added Jacobson, who has been in the area the past year.

When completed, the range has the potential to be among the finest along the Coast, if not the entire region. Practice greens placed at variable intervals and surrounded by sand traps are inviting targets. Flags on the greens are color-coded, and coincide with yardage markers on the manicured practice tees.

A bunker provides golfers an opportunity to practice long trap shots, one of the game's most difficult shots.

By Labor Day, a putting and chipping green is scheduled to be complete, and another sand trap for shorter bunker shots will also be available.

The range is scheduled to be open daily from 9 a.m.-8 p.m., although Jacobson said the hours will probably be extended to 10 p.m. on June 1.

For such a facility, prices are reasonable. Cost for a small bucket of balls, which includes 40 balls, is $3. A bucket of 65 balls is $4.75, and a large bucket of 110 balls is $6.75. Jacobson said range plans will also be available.

Jacobson said lessons will be offered by certified Professional Golf Association teachers.

Construction on the Arnold Palmer-designed course is moving at a frantic pace, as evidenced by the amount of heavy machinery on the course.

Although not one blade of grass has been planted, Jacobson said casino officials have said the course is expected to be open by Labor Day.

"I can't disagree," he said. "It's hard to tell. But I haven't taken any tournaments before December."

The clearing is complete, and crews are currently putting in bridges and a sprinkling system. Planting is scheduled to begin by May.

"If we get a good growing season, I think we'll make it," Jacobson said.

Two tournaments have already been scheduled for December — the Senior Series from Dec. 3-7, and the southern Championship for teams from Alabama, Florida and Mississippi on Dec. 14-15.

"I have to be ready," Jacobson said.

Palmer's creation will place a premium on accuracy, not distance, which is a trademark of his layouts. The championship tees will play to just over 6,900 yards, but golfers will be challenged by not only 17 manmade lakes, but the natural wetlands that have been preserved for added adventures.

"Palmer courses as a rule are designed so people can have some fun," said Jacobson, a native of Minnesota who attended college at Arizona State with his wife, Lori, and has spent time in Northern California.

Preparing for range opening

"The course will have a good landing area, and people can find their balls," he added. "It's got it all."

Jacobson termed the layout "environmentally friendly" in that every effort went into the preservation of the natural surroundings.

He added that the marriage of a first-class golf facility with a hotel and casino is a "natural," since golfers "as a rule, like to gamble."

"Here, you have everything in one, including fishing and sailing," Jacobson said.

The carts will feature computerized systems to give golfers accurate yardage, and allow Jacobson to identify slow players, or where a buildup may be occurring.

Jacobson said the fees have not been determined. However, one can expect they will be set at a premium, since the course will primarily be played by the hotel residents and casino patrons.

Racing season underway at Sun Coast Speedway

Although the temperature was on the cool side, a large number of cars and fans were on hand for the opening night races at Sun Coast Speedway. Although many of the cars were not completely finished, and sponsor space is still available on most, the drivers and fans were seemingly ready for the season to get underway.

Bubba McQueen and Wallace Allen led the 12-car field of Pro Stocks to the green flag for the first feature race of the night. Allen moved to the front with McQueen challenging for the lead on every lap of the 15-lap feature.

Larry Cifra managed to move past McQueen on one lap, but was unable to hold the second spot for long, as McQueen moved back into second for the finish. Cifra got a little loose coming out of turn four, allowing heat winner Scott Holt to move into third as they crossed the finish line.

Kalif Sellier won both heat and feature races in the Four Cylinder Modified division. Although Sellier was nervous and excited as he climbed out for picture taking at the flag stand, he was quite happy with the new car he built in the off season.

Jo Jo Reeves followed Sellier to the checkers, followed by Tracy Hudnall. Hudnall failed to pass tech inspection, forfeiting the third place spot to Kenny Allison.

The Street Stock feature was headed by Randy Sexton and last year's points champion, Lonnie Scarbrough, on the front row. At the green flag it was Scarbrough claiming the lead. Sexton stayed in pursuit and was able to claim the lead just past the mid-way point in the race.

Scarbrough retired to the pits as he appeared to develop mechanical problems. Chuckie Smith chased Sexton to the flag as Chris Moran worked his way into the third spot. Ryan Plaisance, Richard Tassin and Eddie Willis all claimed earlier heat race wins.

Billy Joe Schonevitz drove his familiar red and yellow number 81 to heat and feature wins. Mike Ladner was Schonevitz's main competition in both races, but was unable to mount a challenge for the lead.

K. I. Davis, last year's points champion, finished in the third spot in the feature race.

In the Rookie class, Ralph Nielsen appeared to take the win, only to fall victim to the tech man, along with fourth place finisher Michael Beech.

Mark Millett moved into the top spot followed by Allen Kilpatrick and Louis Kenmar. Kenmar was also the winner of the heat race.

Rocks rocked by Rebels

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws and the George County Rebels tangled on the diamond on Feb. 27 with the Rebels stinging the Rocks 8-1.

George County jumped on the Rocks early and never let up as they struck for a run in the top of the first and two runs in the top of the second. The Rebels hit paydirt for three runs in the fourth and one run in the fifth and sixth innings to close out their scoring.

The Rocks tallied their single run of the game in the fourth inning.

David Manasco was the only offense that the Rocks showed as he tallied three hits in the game including a double.

Casey Swanson took the loss for the Rocks and SSC fell to 2-2 on the season.

TAKE ANOTHER ASPIRIN & IGNORE THE OBVIOUS.

Headache pain is often a warning signal to the body that something is wrong. Yet, often when we get rid of the pain, we're ignoring the problem behind it.

There are many causes of headaches. One of the most frequent is misalignment of one or more of the small spinal bones in the neck. When these CERVICAL VERTEBRAE are displaced, the nerves between them are affected. Headaches of all kinds may result, migraines, pain at the base of the skull, behind the eyes or the forehead.

Our doctors at Hoda Chiropractic Clinics are experienced in treating headaches of this kind, can restore cervical vertebrae to their proper positions, thus halting the painful nerve interference which causes some headaches.

When you have a headache, see Dr. Desmond Hoda.

Turkey hunt set

Wildlife officials are hoping this year's turkey season will open with a bang for young people, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

A youth turkey hunt is planned at the Sunflower Wildlife Management Area for March 23 for hunters 8-15 years of age. All youth must be accompanied by a licensed adult 21 years of age or older.

To be eligible for the turkey hunt, youths must sign up at the Sharkey County Courthouse from 1-2 p.m. March 9.

Participants in the youth turkey hunt will be required to attend brief seminars discussing turkey biology, hunter safety and turkey hunting following the sign-up period.

All wild turkeys harvested during the youth hunt must be checked at the area headquarters.

Sunflower WMA is located north of Vicksburg and east of U.S. 61 within the 60,000-acre Delta National Forest.

For information call 828-3456 or 746-4505.

On ETV

Mississippi Outdoors

Today at 7 p.m., Festival '96 has a special treat in store for all the outdoors men and women: "The Best of Mississippi Outdoors - Seasonal Highlights."

Hosts Melvin Tingle and Mara Hartmann will be in the Mississippi ETV studios for a special one-hour presentation.

Together they will focus on the best hunting trips of the past year from the elusive white tail deer to the fast and fleeting migrating duck, along with the most exciting fishing trips to Mississippi's state lakes, its Barrier Islands and back water fishing holes teaming with fighting fish.

The special program will also capture the beauty and color of Mississippi's great outdoors, uncovering the hidden wonder of nature's flora and fauna.

Ole Miss sets up scholarship in memory of Charlie Conerly

One of the greatest football players ever to wear a University of Mississippi uniform and a beloved alumnus will be remembered for generations to come through a scholarship endowment set up for deserving student-athletes.

The new scholarship fund will memorialize Charlie Conerly of Clarksdale, who passed away Feb. 13 after a lengthy illness.

Affectionately known as "Chunkin' Charlie," the student-athlete thrilled Ole Miss fans as he led the Rebels to their first Southeastern Conference championship and a victory in the Delta Bowl. Conerly earned three letters at Ole Miss while playing in 1942, 1946 and 1947, picking up All-American honors his senior season. He interrupted his undergraduate career to serve with the U.S. Marines in World War II.

After graduation, Conerly became the quarterback for the New York Giants, leading that team to the NFL championship. He was named 1948 Rookie of the Year and 1959 Most Valuable Player in the NFL. After retiring in 1961, he returned to Mississippi to start a chain of shoe stores.

"I think he would have been thrilled and proud," said Perian Conerly, when asked what her husband would have thought of the scholarship fund. "He always had a special place in his heart for Ole Miss. The scholarship is an ideal way to honor his memory."

Conerly authored Backseat Quarterback (Doubleday 1963), detailing the couple's experiences during his professional football years. When the Clarksdale natives moved back to the state, they traveled to Oxford on football weekend.

"We always tailgated in the Grove almost every home game. We had our own special place that we enjoyed with our godchildren," she said.

Ole Miss Chancellor Robert C. Khayat described Conerly as a nationally known sports figure and a successful business professional, who always remained true to his alma mater and his friends.

"Charlie was a man of quiet strength and substance," said Khayat. "He was truly one of the outstanding people in athletics in the 20th century, as well as an enthusiastic and loyal ambassador for this university. Setting up a scholarship to honor the many contributions of this Ole Miss family member is most fitting. This scholarship endowment will give financial support to deserving students, and his life's story should provide special inspiration."

Legendary Rebel coach Johnny Vaught of Oxford, who worked with Conerly during his Ole Miss playing days, called the scholarship project a "wonderful idea. Charlie Conerly is one of the greatest alumni we have ever graduated from this university. He did so much for Ole Miss and the state of Mississippi. I was very fond of him and will always appreciate the help he gave me in my own career."

Said Head Football Coach Tommy Tuberville, "Establishing this scholarship is a tribute to the legacy Charlie Conerly has left to Ole Miss. I enjoyed the short time we spent together, and it was evident how much he loved Ole Miss and her people. Years from now, this scholarship in his honor will mean much more to those recipients when they learn who this man was and what he did for the football tradition we enjoy at this university."

Conerly's honors include induction into the National College Football Hall of Fame, Helms Athletic Hall of Fame, Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame, New York Sports Hall of Fame, Ole Miss Alumni Hall of Fame and Ole Miss Athletic Hall of Fame.

He was named All Pro, Atlanta Touchdown Back of the Year, Nashville Banner Player of the Year and the National Football Foundation's Distinguished American.

"The Charlie Conerly Memorial Athletic Scholarship is the perfect beginning for our new scholarship endowment program," said the university's athletic director, Pete Boone.

"These endowed scholarships can be named after Ole Miss supporters or former athletes. We plan to raise $10 million within 10 years through this program."

Organizations and individuals can contribute to the Charlie Conerly Memorial Athletic Scholarship Endowment through the University of Mississippi Foundation, P.O. Box 249, University, MS 38677; or (601) 232-5944.

Tigers tangle in tourney

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Bay High baseball team tallied two big wins in the Harrison Central baseball tournament on Saturday, March 2.

In the Tigers' first game of the day, Bay High downed the host team 12-7.

The Tigers' Wali Shabazz tallied four RBI and the Tigers had a total of 14 hits in the rout.

Sammy Green got three hits for Bay High while Charlie Buckley, Jonathan Favre, and Luke Weems each had two hits.

Ray Ramsey got the win for the Tigers on the mound.

In the second game of the day for Bay High, the Tigers edged d'Iberville 10-9 for the win.

Jerry Felder scored on a wild pitch to give the Tigers the go-ahead run. Luke Weems had four RBI for the Tigers while Jonathan Favre had three RBI. Wali Shabazz picked the win for Bay High on the mound.

Bay improves to 5-3 on the season with the two wins.

YOUTH

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1996-5B

Help friend stop dangerous habits

By Dr. Ann Jarratt
4-H Youth Development
Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

"A good friend of mine will eat and then go make herself throw up. What can I do to make her stop this? I'm willing to do anything."

Your friend certainly does need help. What she is doing can seriously damage her health and threaten her life if she continues doing this long enough.

Try talking to her and tell her what she is doing could be life threatening. If she saw the true story of Karen Carpenter, the singer, on television, you could remind her that Karen had an eating disorder similar to what she may have and that it caused her death.

If she doesn't seem to believe there is any reason for concern, ask her to go with you to talk with your school nurse or counselor and see what they have to say.

I hope they would help her realize this is a very serious problem that needs professional attention right away. A counselor or health professional may recommend a conference with her parents to make sure that she gets the help she needs.

If she won't agree to talk with anyone, consider going to the nurse or counselor and discussing your concern for her with them. They may suggest some specific steps which can be taken to get help.

Don't assume responsibility for her problem yourself, except to the extent that you urge her to get help. If she won't, you can enlist the help of a professional helper for advice.

Don't nag her about this problem. Be her friend. Let her know that you want her to get help so you won't lose her and her friendship.

"I thought safe sex would protect you from getting AIDS, but I recently heard that if your partner has the AIDS virus, even safe sex doesn't guarantee that you won't get AIDS. Is that true? If it is, why is safe sex being preached as the solution to the problem?"

Good for you for wanting to get the facts!

The truth is that there is no such thing as totally "safe sex" unless there is abstinence. Perhaps what should be discussed is abstinence, protected sex, and unprotected sex.

With protected sex you are less likely to get AIDS than if you use no protection. The degree of protection depends on the quality of the protection you use and if you use it precisely as directed. No protection is guaranteed to be 100 percent effective.

With unprotected sex, you would be highly at risk. You may have noticed that the numbers of heterosexual women being diagnosed with AIDS is increasing.

I think anyone who cares about young people would recommend (and even plead for) abstinence. The problem is that anyone who follows the research knows that too many young people are already sexually active.

The desire is to educate sexually active teens to try to save them from AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases.

If you have questions concerning your teenage years, write Dr. Ann Jarratt, 4-H youth development specialist, Box 9641, Mississippi State, MS 39762.

SSC on retreat

The sixth through 11th grade classes of St. Stanislaus College Prep participated in retreats focusing around the theme "Relationships with parents, friends and God." Parents, teachers and senior class teamed up to provide five retreats simultaneously at five different sites around Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian. The young men were given the opportunity to learn more about themselves and each other through prayer and guidance. The retreat lasted one day, complementing the normal course of study. St. Stanislaus senior Tee Bergeron offers leadership and guidance to his retreat group of eighth graders consisting of Blake Klyce, Matt Thompson and Patrick Burke.

Participants sought

Applications are now being accepted by the University of Southern Mississippi for a summer Leadership Studies program for children in grades 6-11.

Applications for the June 16-21 program must be turned in by March 31. Tuition costs cover room, board, recreational activities and limited accident insurance. Applicants must have a desire to enhance their leadership skills and abilities, plus a recommendation from officials at the school they attend.

First-time participants take Leadership I, which covers fundamental leadership skills — including written and oral communication, group dynamics, problem-solving, planning, personal skills and decision-making.

Leadership II, offered to second-year students, builds on principles taught in the first course. Areas taught include psychology of leadership, assertiveness training and situational leadership. Third-year students, taking Leadership III, focus on legal aspects of leadership, developing personal power and leadership for the future.

Avenues for becoming leaders in the school, community, church or synagogue are discussed to heighten awareness and development of leadership potential.

For applications or additional information, contact the Leadership Studies Program, University of Southern Mississippi, Box 8207, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-8207, or call (601) 266-5236.

Student in co-op program

Lachina Marie Tillman of Bay St. Louis is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of computer engineering, Tillman is working toward a degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student on alternating semesters at Stennis Space Center with the Naval Research Laboratory.

Audubon Society

The Mississippi Coast Audubon Society is sponsoring a field trip to DeSoto National Forest on Saturday, March 9. Birds, butterflies and wildflowers should make it an informative morning.

Two departure times are scheduled, 7:30 a.m. or 5:30 a.m. Meet at the Park 'N Ride lot next to Denny's at exit 50 off I-10. Red cockaded woodpecker will be seen by those who meet at 5:30 a.m. and might be seen by those who join the field trip at 7:30 a.m.

Bring binoculars, field guide, insect repellent and snack. For details call Janet Peters at 872-3485 or Sharon Milligan, 435-4921.

IN THE CHANCERY COURT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF CHARLES F. GOTTSCHALK, DECEASED

SUMMONS

CIVIL ACTION NO.: 96-0148

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

TO THE UNKNOWN HEIRS OF CHARLES F. GOTTSCHALK DECEASED

You have been made a Defendant in the estate filed in this Court by Ann E. Boringer, initiating a civil action alleging that Ann E. Boringer, Karl J. Gottschalk, John V. Gottschalk, Sheila Gottschalk, Black, Fredrick S. Gottschalk, Mary E. Moses and Patricia J. Hutchinson, are the sole and only heirs at law of Charles F. Gottschalk, deceased, and seeking an adjudication of such heirship.

You are required to mail or hand deliver a written response to the Complaint filed against you in this action to J. P. COMPETTA, Attorney for the Plaintiff, whose address is P. O. Box 128, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520.

YOUR RESPONSE MUST BE MAILED NOT LATER THAN THIRTY (30) DAYS AFTER THE 7th DAY OF March, 1996, WHICH IS THE DATE OF THE FIRST PUBLICATION OF THIS SUMMONS. IF YOUR RESPONSE IS NOT SO MAILED OR DELIVERED, A JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT WILL BE ENTERED AGAINST YOU FOR THE RELIEF SOUGHT IN THE PETITION.

You must also file the original of your response with the Clerk of this Court within a reasonable time after said date.

Issued under my hand and seal of said Court, this 4th day of March, 1996.

HISTORY OF 306 HWY. 90
BAY ST. LOUIS, MS

This 73x137 building has been the beginning of numerous businesses in Bay St. Louis. First came the Bay Bowling Alley with Mrs. Yarnan and then Fred Cabell. Next was a building supply with Dave McDonald. Then Bob Taconi ran a hardware business for a number of years before moving further out. Next came Monti Electric for some years before moving. Dave McDonald operated a flooring business for approximately 15 years before retiring. Schultz Flooring Co. functioned for five years before moving and then the Public Library occupied the building for 15 months while remodeling and enlarging their headquarters.
